“BRIDGES DON’T FALL FROM THE SKY, THEY DON’T RISE FROM THE GROUND. PEOPLE BUILD THEM.”

-EBOO PATEL
This is a familiar story about Pittsburgh, the city of bridges...more than Venice! And the story of business engagement in civic life is also a cherished notion about our life in Pittsburgh. The catalog quote speaks to the will and determination of people who build these bridges. That story too is a big part of Pittsburgh’s lore and those stories have business leaders with vision and deep love for Pittsburgh at the helm. With the Covestro Center for Community Engagement at Robert Morris University throwing open its doors this fall, continuing its bridge building work with SkillShare, BoardsWork! and the Executive Service Corps, we see the clear evidence that these time-honored ideas about who Pittsburgh is and how it gets its work done remain true.

We are living through a time of division, insult and deep suspicion of difference. The image of a sturdy bridge that unites our hopes and dreams for a just and prosperous region is especially appealing in this time of angry and rude debate. To boldly assert that we can still share a vision of a community that reaches out with love and concern across difference, one that seeks to see merit in each other’s programs and plans seems particularly vital now. Men and women of good will working together to solve community problems is even more salient in a disturbed and confrontational world.

The Covestro Center at RMU is a strong addition to the community because of its focus on expertise and practical solutions. Each of its programs has an agenda to advance the capability of their nonprofit partners in clear and specific ways. Two things excite me here: the quality of the solutions being built through detailed and focused projects that save time and precious operating money for the nonprofit; and the realistic awareness of the challenges nonprofits bravely address that is a by-product of the work done by the business volunteers.

Please listen to the testimony of one of our BoardsWork! participants.

“I have never heard of the board you connected me with, but I couldn’t be happier to have found them. They have a fantastic mission led by highly committed and professional staff. I am now the vice-chair of the board and moving into further leadership positions... I know that I have had a significant personal evolution in my understanding and commitment not only to the organization on whose board I serve, but also how I view and support other nonprofit organizations. Other nonprofit organizations are also doing really important and needed work in our community and they need more support than I realized.”

For all of my long life, I have believed in the power of people who seek to build bridges — people who share a yearning for a community that is characterized by generosity and optimism, who are determined that younger people will thrive and older people will be safe and happy — and those in the middle will be industrious, productive and energetic. Pittsburgh has long been a place that is interested in what other people want for themselves and committed to being part of making those things happen. Pittsburghers will do all that it takes to build bridges — sturdy, thoughtful, carefully constructed bridges. Please join us in celebrating Pittsburgh’s 447th bridge, the Covestro Center for Community Engagement!

Not like anybody else.
We’re part of a university. We live the nonprofit life. We give you the time you need. These are the things that set us apart and are why thousands of organizations have come to trust the Bayer Center for Nonprofit Management at Robert Morris University as a comprehensive resource for education, consulting, coaching, research, and hands-on solutions for every aspect of nonprofit management.

Every one of our solutions is a custom solution.
At the Bayer Center, we build a stronger community by helping to build stronger, more knowledgeable nonprofits. We do this through collaboration, patience and relationships, combined with decades upon decades of diverse success experience.

Our approach to education is to stay on top of what's happening in the sector, plan for what’s going to happen, listen to you, and offer the ever-adapting menu of classes you see described in this catalog.

Our approach to consulting and coaching is, when time permits and circumstances warrant, to enter into a process that builds mutual trust and respect and long-lasting results. And when time doesn’t permit, to help you deal with crisis in the instant and on the ground.

Our approach to thought leadership is to leverage our role as a Robert Morris University Center of Excellence, and to listen to you – through conversations, surveys, research and community gatherings – to bring together the best thinking on how our sector can most effectively enhance our community.

Your reality is our reality.
Organizations on the front line need realistic solutions. Sometimes that means taking a class. Sometimes it means an in-depth planning process. And sometimes it may mean figuring out how to keep the doors open next month.

In 18 years of service to the nonprofit community, the Bayer Center has completed over 2,000 consulting engagements and educated over 10,500 students. Our consulting clients include human services, arts, faith-based, community development, environmental and education organizations with budgets ranging from $100,000 or less to more than $50,000,000.

Our intensive and customized management, governance, financial and technology consulting services are designed to educate leaders and have resulted in:

- Higher functioning governing boards
- Enhanced financial planning and management
- Increased partnerships and strategic alliances
- More effective approaches to fundraising
- Better informed, evidence-based decisions for future directions
- More capable nonprofit leaders and organizations
- Effective management information systems
- Heightened brand awareness
- Prudent software choices and website design
- A strategic approach to decision-making

In short, at the Bayer Center, we work with you: To provide effective and practical management and governance tools, information, education and research that strengthen nonprofit missions and multiply all investments of time, talent and money in regional nonprofit organizations.

Note:
All classes are located at the Bayer Center for Nonprofit Management in the Heinz 57 Center at 339 Sixth Avenue, Suite 750, unless noted otherwise.

We can provide service-minded teams through our programs, and in preparation for this stage of our growth! Evie, our facilitator, did an outstanding job of facilitating the event, and I’m positively giddy with anticipation for our next steps!”

The mission of Treasure House Fashions – to promote the dignity and self-esteem of women, particularly women in transition or crisis – resonated with Ayanna, a FedEx employee.

She told us during the board matching process, “I was parent-less at the age of 10 and was a child that did not have basic necessities or a steady place to live (not really homeless, but at times it felt like it). I used education as a road map to rid myself of this situation. I know how I lived and work and encourages its employees to serve on boards and be proactive about delivering positive change. FedEx recommended the training provided by the BoardsWork! program.

What interests and compels you about board service?

Giving back is something that is extremely important to me. I think we all have a duty to be positive influences, and to serve as needed, in our respective communities. Most nonprofits aim to fulfill missions that are essential to a segment of the population or to society as a whole.

How has your board experience with Treasure House Fashions (THF) been thus far? What was the matching process like through BoardsWork! What experiences and skills have you lent or applied to them?

The matching process was fairly quick. I communicated my interests and was matched with THF. My first board meeting took place in May (2018). The positive energy and passion was evident from the beginning, and I left the meeting feeling that much more determined to become an effective board member that will help further THF’s mission. I plan on serving on the finance committee.

What have you learned through your experience about leadership and the nonprofit landscape?

There are a number of members leading the charge that have served longer than I have. However, I can still be a leader, even when I am not in a “leadership” position on the board. I can and try to provide service-based leadership, no matter my role.

What would you tell other colleagues or friends if they were interested in serving on a nonprofit board?

It is a very rewarding and worthwhile experience. The positive impact you can bring to a community or a certain demographic is priceless.

BoardsWork!
Builds Better Boards

Treasure House Fashions was committed to developing board best practices and planning for their future through committee structure and concrete action plans. Ayanna Lee-Davis, a FedEx legal counsel employee, was committed to serving a local nonprofit as a board member. The Covestro Center for Community Engagement’s BoardsWork! program brought them together.

Once their organization completed a customized board retreat as a part of their BoardsWork! engagement, executive director Sally Power knew they were on a path to success. She said, “Our experience EXCEEDED my expectations, and I felt the time was an excellent investment in our understanding, our relationship as a board, and in preparation for this stage of our growth! Evie, our facilitator, did an outstanding job of facilitating the event, and I’m positively giddy with anticipation for our next steps!”

The mission of Treasure House Fashions – to promote the dignity and self-esteem of women, particularly women in transition or crisis – resonated with Ayanna, a FedEx employee.

I used education as a road map to rid myself of this situation. I know how important it is to provide services/essentials to children and youth – it made all the difference in my life. As a single mother of two children, I can relate to the struggles of women similarly situated. I am all about support groups and empowerment of women.”

We asked Ayanna a few questions about BoardsWork! and board service in general. Here’s her testimony:

What drew you to BoardsWork!?

FedEx is committed to serving the communities in which we live and work and encourages its employees to serve on boards and be proactive about delivering positive change. FedEx recommended the training provided by the BoardsWork! program.

What did you learn in the full-day training that you didn’t know before?

The extent of responsibility you truly hold as a board member.

What interests and compels you about board service?

Executive Service Corps Delivers Results

The Executive Service Corps (ESC) is an integrated program of the Covestro Center for Community Engagement that uses the skills of experienced, knowledgeable, and dedicated volunteer professionals through Bayer Center consulting contracts, class instruction, BoardsWork! facilitation and SkillShare project development.

Projects are based on the scope of nonprofit need and are designed to be affordable to smaller organizations, with contracts ranging from one-time engagements to six-month timelines.

All of our volunteers are committed to nonprofit success and value the challenging, indispensable work of the sector. Whether currently working or retired, they are experienced and are trained to work alongside nonprofits of any size.

ESC engagements and solutions are as varied and diverse as our volunteers. Some of the areas in which ESC volunteers can assist include: marketing and communications planning; human resources; compensation analysis; facilities management; accounting systems and QuickBooks; outcomes management and quality improvement; project management; and strategies for emerging organizations.

For more information on Executive Service Corps, contact the Associate Director, Covestro Center for Community Engagement, Yvonne Van Haitsma at 412-397-6002 or vanhaitsma@rmu.edu.

SkillShare Solves Nonprofit Challenges

412 Food Rescue wanted to double the amount of food they rescue. A team of Covestro employees wanted to develop a solution to help the organization meet its goal. The Covestro Center for Community Engagement’s SkillShare program brought them together.

412 FOOD RESCUE GOALS

- Obtain data analysis and tools that would help identify opportunities and gaps in their existing business
- Obtain a business plan describing how to double business from 1.3 to 2.6 million pounds of rescued food

PROJECT SCOPE

Developed in collaboration with ESC project advisor
Work with 412 Food Rescue to enhance and organize the donor/volunteer/recipient databases for analysis.

Assist with forecasting donation volume for 2018 and development of a business plan.

Analyze data to identify opportunities and risks and test sensitivities associated with the forecast.

Develop a dashboard of key indicators from the database to monitor performance and identify deviations from the forecast.

A financial analyst, planner, technical sales associate, and global market analyst combined their diverse expertise and delivered a tangible set of solutions, including a real-time data dashboard. Through the SkillShare program, the team learned how to apply their professional skills to a local nonprofit need – double food rescue in 2018.

412 Food Rescue’s CEO and Co-Founder Leah Lizarondo believes SkillShare’s impact can already be felt within the organization and said, “This project is helping us plan and match our donations, making it easier for us to do our work. What’s extra valuable was that not only will this project help us to better plan for volume and volunteers needed, but it connected us with team members from Covestro that we can continue to call if we have additional problems. This deepens our relationship with Covestro, as well.”

Covestro team member Adam Sirianni hopes that more employees sign up for SkillShare, stating, “This program was great – it allows you to use your creative thinking to help solve real-world problems while building your own skill set. I highly encourage everyone to participate to better yourself and expand your network.”

NEW & EXCITING AT THE BAYER CENTER

What’s Next for What Now?
Friday, Sept. 28 from 10 a.m. – 2 p.m.
Our “What Now” research project has moved to the solution-building phase. We listened to our community to formulate a framework of next steps for collectively confronting the wave of retirement, which includes:
1. Development for emerging leaders
2. Executive transition planning services
3. Coaching/Advising for senior staff
Join us as local leaders share their insight followed by small group discussion as we dive deeper into these three approaches to address the retirement crisis.
Panelists: Michelle Heck, Nonprofit Talent; Wendy Burtner-Owens, Steeltown Entertainment Project; Evan Frasier, Highmark; and Peggy Morrison Oulton, Bayer Center (moderator)
Location: The Cabin at Avonworth Community Park, 498 Camp Horne Road, Pittsburgh, 15237
Fee: $25

The Happy Healthy Nonprofit:
Linking Self-Care and Well-Being to Impact
Wednesday, Sept. 26 from 9 a.m. – noon
Nonprofit professionals work hard every day with limited resources which can result in burnout if they do not embrace self-care and the organization does not nurture a culture of well-being in the nonprofit workplace. This session is about how and why it is important to treat self-care and well-being as an organizational strategy and cultural norm.
When self-care initiatives are treated as “extras” instead of being built right into the fabric of an organization’s culture, they are nothing more than a Band-Aid, barely disguising the underlying chronic stress and eroding the nonprofits ability to meet its mission.
This session will share the latest thinking on well-being in the nonprofit workplace based on the presenter’s book, “The Happy Healthy Nonprofit: Strategies for Impact Without Burnout.” Going beyond a narrow focus on physical health and wellness, the session will share examples and insights from nonprofits that have created and implemented a culture of well-being in the workplaces that supports results.
Instructor: Beth Kanter, author and international nonprofit thought leader

What's a DAF? Let's Talk About It!
Monday, Oct. 29 from 5 – 7 p.m.
Join us for a fireside chat with Michael Hoffman – a Covestro Center for Community Engagement (CCCE) exclusive event!
The biggest nonprofit in the world is Fidelity Charitable, with net assets of $21 billion (as of 6/30/17). Fidelity’s charitable giving, driven by other financial advisors, is largely in the form of gifts from donor-advised funds (DAF). Nonprofit organizations receive millions of dollars of support from DAFs...is yours? Could you and other board members help navigate this opportunity?
Michael Hoffman of PNC Wealth Management has worked for Fidelity Charitable and with other similar organizations and will help us all better understand what the opportunity is and is not for the donor and the organization. We will also explore the challenges and concerns some are expressing about DAFs and their use.
Peggy Morrison Oulton, Assistant RMU Vice President for Community Engagement and Leadership Development, will engage Mike in a lively conversation about all things DAF. Join us for this provocative and important conversation.
Location: Energy Innovation Center, 1435 Bedford Ave, Pittsburgh, PA 15219
Fee: Free for current BoardsWork! board members and executive directors.

Sounds Like a Lot of Work: A Viewing Party
Monday, Dec. 3 from 4 – 6 p.m.
Ever wondered what a nonprofit board meeting is really like? Or if other boards also struggle with similar challenges? Then this party is for you! Join your friends and colleagues for light refreshments and networking before a live viewing of “Sounds Like a Lot of Work,” a Bayer Center commissioned play that tracks the board meetings of an imaginary jazz museum. Following the viewing, we’ll engage in discussion about how our boards work – and how they could work better! Grab a fellow board member and plan to join us for this fun evening of good, bad, and ugly board governance!
Instructor: Evie Gardner, Bayer Center
Fee: $10

WE NEED YOUR HELP!
The 2019 Wage and Benefit Survey
The Wage and Benefit Survey of Southwestern Pennsylvania Nonprofit Organizations has been a trusted resource since 2000. It has provided the most current data about regional salary and benefits needed both for valid decision-making by nonprofit executives and for 990 compliance.
Your willingness to provide information makes this sector-wide resource possible. We will be gathering data this fall for the 2019 edition and we need your input! The survey will be available for purchase in January 2019. OR you can receive a copy for FREE if you take part! Contact Carrie Tancraitor at 412-397-6003 or tancraitor@rmu.edu to find out how to participate.
If numbers were your favorite thing, you probably wouldn’t have gone into nonprofits. But finance doesn’t have to be scary, and it doesn’t have to be hard. The Bayer Center’s focus in our financial consulting and classes is always on the practical. We’re pretty good with the numbers, but we’ve lost count of how many clients have told us that we made accounting understandable for the first time. Whether we’re with you in a three-hour class or working as your consultant, our goal is to help you use your finances as a tool for managing your organization and delivering your services more effectively. Clarity is our business.

Some of the ways we assist organizations are:

- Analyzing financial performance ratios to identify areas of concern and aid in management decisions
- Clarifying cost allocations to determine how individual programs contribute to the bottom line or require subsidization
- Educating boards on what to monitor in financial reports and how to interpret the data
- Considering financial issues in strategic decision-making

Big changes are on the way for nonprofit financial reporting. Not only should organizations be familiar with new revenue recognition standards, major changes are effective for most 2019 fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2017. Changes will impact how restricted net assets are reported, classification and presentation of expenses, and a number of other additional disclosures. Don’t miss this critical update on how your organization reports financial results!

The financial policy and procedures manual is the foundation of a strong financial management system. It is the guide for determining how your organization uses and manages money and establishes internal controls and ensures compliance with regulatory standards, donor restrictions, and grantor guidelines. It is important for clarifying roles and responsibilities and ultimately for ensuring that the organization’s financial data is an accurate and reliable basis for organizational decision-making. During this interactive session, you will learn the major components of the financial policy and procedures manual and how to set policies and procedures that match your organization’s needs as there is no one-size-fits-all manual.

WHAT NOW?

HOW WILL THE IMPENDING RETIREMENT OF NONPROFIT LEADERS CHANGE THE SECTOR?

THE NONPROFIT SECTOR STANDS AT A PRECIPICE.

The response of the community will shape the future of nonprofits. Are we ready to discuss hard questions of retirement and the treatment of the nonprofit community workforce?

REALITY BY THE NUMBERS:

10,000

Baby Boomers are turning age 65 per day, and will continue to cross that threshold at that daily rate for the next 19 years.

WHAT NOW?

How will the impending retirement of nonprofit leaders change the sector?

REALITY BY THE NUMBERS:

10,000

Baby Boomers are turning age 65 per day, and will continue to cross that threshold at that daily rate for the next 19 years.

Retirement rate?

We are doing the math.

Take the journey through our research and follow nonprofit stories as the most seasoned leaders and staff members of our communities’ vital nonprofits move into retirement.

APPLIED RESEARCH AT THE BAYER CENTER...

The 74% Research Project was sparked after reporting a gender wage gap in every iteration of the Wage and Benefit Survey since its inception in 2002. From this research we found that local nonprofit organizations and individuals are ill-prepared for the pending retirement boom.

This got us thinking...

Over the last year we have studied nonprofit employees’ individual savings habits and their organization’s policies and procedures. Our research publication provides greater detail on the following findings:

- The regional nonprofit sector is educated and long tenured, yet these characteristics do not translate into better preparation for retirement.
- As a result of a higher median age, a significant portion of regional nonprofit executives plan to retire within the next 10 years.
- Organizational processes and systems to support retirement are spotty at best.

However, despite the dismal statistics, there is optimism for change. The research publication also suggests solutions for our region: solutions to support local organizations and the individuals who have dedicated their lives to serving our community. In order to continue our multi-faceted research on this topic through education, we offer the classes and events which will speak to the on-the-ground reality featured in the “What Now” section of the “Courses by Category” on page 3.

Southwestern Pennsylvania is a region dense with nonprofit organizations that deliver services of real consequence. Teetering between eventual retirement and possible encore careers, a massive core of the region’s seasoned nonprofit professionals are not going anywhere. They are among the most highly educated and least financially prepared individuals to face retirement.

Many organizations have long-tenured executives with boards who have never needed to replace them. These same organizations frequently have long-standing funding relationships. Nonprofit human resources are often weak. Succession planning is not the norm. New ideas, new blood are challenging to the status quo—but the clock is ticking!

Research findings from the Bayer Center for Nonprofit Management at RMU indicate this generation of experienced nonprofit leaders and employees may bring uncertainty to both their own futures and to the stability of their organizations. Findings confirm that tools for retirement planning for individuals and succession plans for nonprofit organizations are scarce. How nonprofits respond to this reality will shape the future of the sector.

THIS PIONEERING BCNM PROJECT BRINGS VITAL RESEARCH, CONVERSATIONS, AND EXPERTS TOGETHER TO EXPLORE:

The ramifications of these retirements on the organizations that serve our communities.

The need for preparation of the next generation of leaders.

Ideas to improve the prospects for all nonprofit employees.

Purpose-driven founders and leaders are facing retirement.

NONPROFIT MANAGEMENT

What isn't nonprofit management?

At the Bayer Center, we view nonprofit management as a holistic quilt that weaves together diverse and mutually supporting skills, from governance to fundraising to financial analysis to technology to marketing to forming partnerships and alliances… the list goes on and on. Put them all together and what you have is a strategic approach to decision-making that accounts for human needs and organizational sustainability. The following classes will help you learn the techniques; our coaching and consulting services will help you put them into practice.

Some of the ways we assist organizations are:

• Performing comprehensive organizational assessments
• Facilitating inclusive planning processes that adapt to an evolving definition of needs identified in the course of planning
• Recommending and exploring opportunities for partnerships and collaborations
• Creating fund development plans that reflect donor realities
• Researching and performing environmental scans that clarify the organization’s position within its service and competitive landscape
• Offering professional coaching to nonprofit leaders

Unlocking Your Data for IMPACT
Tuesday, Sept. 25 from 9 a.m. – noon
Does just the word “data” send shivers down your spine? What data should I collect? How do I organize it, analyze it, and use it? Come equipped with the data you have at your fingertips and find answers to those questions while gaining confidence in understanding the value of “the numbers.” This course provides a guided hands-on approach to the importance of data in demonstrating your organization’s impact. We’ll use activities to share data and address challenges, while building confidence in their data management skills. You’ll leave with a data tool kit to support future decision-making. In this session, we’ll identify:
1. Essentials of internal and external data gathering and ways to mine for more
2. Simplistic ways to organize and analyze the data
3. Insights the data provide
4. Data communication strategies that illustrate your organization’s impact to potential donors and funders

The Happy Healthy Nonprofit:
Linking Self-Care and Well-Being to Impact
Wednesday, Sept. 26 from 9 a.m. – noon
Nonprofit professionals work hard every day with limited resources which can result in burnout if they do not embrace self-care and the organization does not nurture a culture of well-being in the nonprofit workplace. This session is about how and why it is important to treat self-care and well-being as an organizational strategy and cultural norm. When self-care initiatives are treated as “extras” instead of being built right into the fabric of an organization’s culture, they are nothing more than a Band-Aid, barely disguising the underlying chronic stress and eroding the nonprofits ability to meet its mission.
This session will share the latest thinking on well-being in the nonprofit workplace based on the presenter’s book, “The Happy Healthy Nonprofit: Strategies for Impact Without Burnout.” Going beyond a narrow focus on physical health and wellness, the session will share examples and insights from nonprofits that have created and implemented a culture of well-being in the workplaces that supports results.
Instructor: Beth Kanter, author and international nonprofit thought leader

Executive Director Boot Camp
Thursday, Sept. 27 from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m.
ED Boot Camp is a day-long, entry-level workshop for new Executive Directors. Topics covered will include the basics of nonprofit management including: tools and tips for effective leadership, organizational stability, fundraising, financial management, regulatory compliance, external relations and governance. The day will be interactive and will draw on the experience of the participants to support and share creativity, learn new strategies and identify action steps for personal, as well as, organizational growth.
Instructor: Wendy Burtner-Owens, Steeltown Entertainment Project
Fee: $125

Before the Ask
Tuesday, Oct. 2 from 9 a.m.– noon
Great fundraisers are often thought of as individuals who excel at the art of ‘the ask.’ However, those same fundraisers know the importance of a well-laid plan. This session will teach participants how to craft and forecast a fundraising campaign that will pave the way for success well before ‘the ask’ even happens. Participants will learn the basics of fundraising planning, how to find their ‘hook,’ how to find the people, and how to beat the drum.
Instructor: Valerie Beichner, Friends of the Riverfront

Quality Improvement: How Nonprofits Can Reap the Benefits
Wednesday, Oct. 10 from 1 – 4 p.m.
In today’s environment, nonprofits find themselves facing the same economic pressures as their for-profit counterparts. Having a competitive edge with quality services can be a significant part of the solution. It will promote the highest level of service, efficiency and accountability to funders. This course will focus on increasing your knowledge and understanding of quality principles and how they can be used across all facets of operations. A review of quality improvement approaches and problem-solving tools will provide the fundamentals for understanding how your organization can begin to realize continuous improvements. Class exercises, case studies, and discussion will be used to examine practical scenarios and how quality improvement can impact the overall success of your organization!

Grant Funder Research Beyond the Usual Suspects
Tuesday, Oct. 16 from 9 a.m. – noon
This class is designed for nonprofit leaders and staff who are interested in moving their grant seeking program beyond just the “usual suspects.” During the class, we will discuss tricks and tips for identifying new potential grant funders, as well as learning how to prioritize those potential funders to spend grant-seeking resources and time wisely. We’ll help participants define their own unique factors that make a new prospect a viable one and those which indicate it is not worth pursing. You’ll leave inspired to uncover new funding sources.

Instructor: Larry A. Silverman, Esq.
Fee: FREE, but registration is required

Achieving Stronger Alignment for Smarter Grant Proposals
Tuesday, Oct. 16 from 1 – 4 p.m.
Designed for nonprofit leaders and staff to approach grant writing in a new way, this class will teach you how to write clear and strategic proposals. Participants will learn why a proposal shouldn’t be about what the organization needs, but about the alignment between the project or organization and what the funder cares most about. The interactive class will include an opportunity for participants to examine a sample winning grant proposal to identify the elements that make it work and begin to sharpen their ideas and lead to distinct, compelling writing.

Survey Development: From Questions to Preparing for Analysis and Everything In-Between
Wednesday, Oct. 17 from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m.
Without data, you only have opinion. A well-crafted and successfully-implemented survey can provide you with the necessary data needed to determine the needs and strengths in your community, track program implementation and measure your program’s impact. Through discussion and interactive exercises, participants will understand both the purpose and value of the survey as a data collection method, learn how to design appropriate survey questions and format for your evaluation needs, create a plan to administer surveys with appropriate follow-up and position yourself to be ready for analysis of survey data. This training will also explore Survey Monkey as a tool to assist with survey development, administration and analysis with one-on-one technical assistance as you work on or develop a survey for your organization.

Next Level Boardsmanship (NLB) Series!

Take your board to the next level! These four classes offer a closer look at some of the most common problems to plague a nonprofit board offered in afternoon and evening hours to accommodate your busy schedule. Classes can be taken a la carte or you may take all four for $125. BUT WAIT, THERE’S MORE! Attendees are encouraged to bring a board member for FREE to all four of these classes.

Fee: $40 per session or $125 for the whole four-part series

Harnessing the Potential of Your Board: Big Dollar Donors

Wednesday, Oct. 17 from 4 – 6 p.m.

Are you ready for your board members to introduce you to their top relationships? Are you ready to ask for $1 million? More importantly, does your board member believe you’re ready? In this session you’ll learn a strong fundraising process that will help you communicate effectively during your presentations in order to make your board member look like a genius for making the introduction.

Instructor: Joel Burstein, Keep it Simple Training and Development, LLC

Nonprofit Financial Oversight: What’s New?

Wednesday, Oct. 24 from 4 – 6 p.m.

Monitoring a nonprofit’s financial health and performance has long been a key oversight function, but major changes to financial accounting and reporting for nonprofits will impact the board’s role in doing so. Bring your most recent audit or annual financial reports to the session, and join us as we review what’s new in financial oversight, such as changes to asset classification and liquidity reporting.

Instructors: Evie Gardner, Bayer Center and Joe Zovko, Louis Plung & Co.

The Board’s Role in Leadership Growth and Transition

Wednesday, Nov. 7 from 4 – 6 p.m.

The role of the board in a nonprofit’s employment practice is crucial. This class will unpack the board’s role as employers beyond just oversight of the ED. We’ll take a look from the board perspective at how our own HR practices reflect on the value placed on employees including salary and benefits, growing the capability of the staff and a commitment to growth and development. Inspired by the Bayer Center’s “What Now” research, this class will give a hard look at the ramifications of the retirement of Baby Boomers on the organizations that serve our communities, the need for better preparation of the next generation of nonprofit leaders.

Instructor: Peggy Morrison Outon, Bayer Center

Can’t We All Just Get Along?

Wednesday, Nov. 14 from 4 – 6 p.m.

Board disputes and interpersonal conflicts can lead to serious legal problems for nonprofits. In this session, you will learn how your organization can be impacted when people can’t work together, when members are removed from the board, or when the board becomes involved in litigation. We’ll discuss ways to prevent these conflicts and propose ways to manage them if they do occur. She will walk attendees through the possible consequences for the organization and its finances, and discuss the ways the court system deals with these situations.

Instructor: Abigail Salisbury, J.D., MPPM, Salisbury Legal, LLC

The Nuts and Bolts of Employment Law

Monday, Oct. 22 from 1 – 4 p.m.

It’s no easy thing to manage a workforce, let alone to do so in a way that complies with the alphabet soup of laws that govern workplaces in Pennsylvania (to name a few, ADA, ADEA, FLSA, FMLA, GINA, MMA, PHRA, PMWA, Title VII…). That task can be even more daunting for nonprofit managers, who have to balance the pursuit of the organization’s mission along with the trials of the ordinary workplace. This class will help you comply with the many laws and regulations that govern the employment relationship from soup-to-nuts (hiring to separation) and beyond (employee claims and disputes). You’ll learn about mistakes employers most often make and how to spot potential issues before they become big problems or lawsuits in areas like: employee contracts, including non-competes; pay practices; compliance with anti-discrimination laws, including those relating to sexual harassment; administration of employee leaves of absence; and disciplinary issues.

How to Leverage Community-Driven Crowdfunding
Tuesday, Oct. 23 from 9 a.m. – noon
Crowdfunding has a strong history in America. In 1885, New Yorkers crowdfunded the pedestal for the Statue of Liberty, and today, ioby (In Our Backyards) has mobilized Americans for over a decade to become powerful citizen leaders who plan, fund and make positive change in their own neighborhoods. In Pittsburgh ioby projects have raised over $130,000 for nearly 100 projects with an 86 percent success rate nationwide. In this workshop we will look at case studies from our own region and discuss how your own nonprofits can collaborate with ioby to crowdsource funds and volunteers. This will be a hands-on strategy practice session that is ideal for bringing project teammates to learn and apply community-based fundraising tactics. Please consider bringing a community partner or colleague.

Instructor: Miriam Parson, ioby
Fee: $65

DIY Branding for Nonprofits
Thursday, Oct. 25 from 9 a.m. – noon
Do you feel your current brand image and messaging leaves your internal and external constituents unmotivated or a bit confused? Does your brand lack clarity, consistency, and appeal? Do you need a little help crafting your organization’s brand story or taking it to the next level? Designed for non-marketers, this course provides practical, reduced-jargon, DIY branding strategies, tools, and tips for nonprofit professionals. You’ll leave this class with the knowledge and steps needed to build your brand including, brand positioning, messaging, personality, look and feel, and digital presence. In the end, your brand will be optimized as an asset to assist you in meeting, and exceeding, your nonprofit business and community objectives.

Instructor: Tony Ryzinski, Captivar Health Marketing

Nonprofits Can be Risky Business
Friday, Oct. 26 from 9 – 11 a.m.
There is an amount of risk involved in all dimensions of nonprofit management – finances, technology, programs, facilities, volunteers and more. Our panelists will help us recognize the areas of risk at our own organizations, and how to make a choice to take on reasonable risk in order to fulfill the mission. Join us for a lively discussion as we work to better understand, evaluate and assess risk in our work.

Panelists: Stephanie Bucklew, SLB Consulting; Todd Whiteman, Esri; George Long Insurance Group; Ryan Brandt, Gallagher; and Peggy Morrison Ounon, Bayer Center (moderator)
Fee: FREE, but registration is required

Telling Your Story: The Power of Video Production for Nonprofits
Tuesday, Oct. 30 from 9 a.m. – noon
This class will provide you with the foundational knowledge of multimedia management and video production. It will teach you how to create a video, manage your content, and be the best marketable nonprofit for video production companies. You will also learn how to be the perfect client for video production companies, create and manage media on a budget and how having multimedia components will take your nonprofit to the next level.

Instructor: Dave Onomastico, Steeltown Entertainment Project
Fee: $65

Fund Development Planning
Thursday, Nov. 1 from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m.
As nonprofits, we build plans for everything: strategic plans, work plans, performance plans, and more. However, one vital plan is commonly overlooked – the fund development plan. In this full-day workshop, you’ll learn how to structure a fund development plan that works for you, break down your historical data and industry research to create realistic plans, and integrate your communication plan to create a holistic approach. Attendees should bring their organizational budget, historical grant and donation data, special event planning documents, sponsorship planning documents, communication plan and a laptop. Attendees will be expected to create portions of their plan during the workshop so each leaves with a base for a final fund development plan. A board member and an employee responsible for communication should attend the afternoon session.

Instructor: Valerie Beichner, Friends of the Riverfront
Fee: $125

Building Strong Relationships with Local Companies
Friday, Nov. 2 from 9 a.m. – noon
We will look through the spectrum of engagement that companies have with nonprofits, including cash donations, event sponsorships, hands-on volunteering, program delivery volunteering, and ways to engage professional skills volunteering and board service. Build your skill set and your toolkit!

Instructor: Yvonne VanHaitsma, Covestro Center for Community Engagement
Fee: $65

Conversation Work-Out
Tuesday, Nov. 6 from 9 a.m. – noon
Does the thought of an upcoming necessary (but hard) conversation make you break out in a sweat? Whether you’re a board member, a supervisor, or the member of a work team, this class will provide the training and the in-room practice to build the “muscle strength” to conduct those conversations in a way that builds understanding and maximizes opportunities for productive resolutions.

Instructor: Susan Loucks, Bayer Center
Fee: $65

Drawing Your Roadmap for a Successful Transition
Wednesday, Oct. 24 from 9 a.m. – noon
Are you or your organization thinking about a transition? Seven out of 10 nonprofit leaders are expected to transition out of their positions in less than a decade. Many will make their transitions in the next few years. A successful leadership transition in Pittsburgh’s competitive hiring environment begins months before a job opening is posted. Join us for practical strategies for preparing for new leadership, recognizing a transitioning leader and managing a major organizational change. Leave this session with a better understanding of a successful transition process and a high-level roadmap to help you with your next steps.

Tools for Identifying Individual Donors

Tuesday, Nov. 6 from 1 – 4 p.m.

Everyone’s biggest question in fundraising is, “How do I find individual donors?” While there isn’t a secret place to find a list of individual donor prospects, there are ways to identify prospects by mapping your organization’s networks. We’ll spend the session discussing effective strategies and introducing useful tools your organization can use to identify new individual donors.

Instructor: Emma Gilmore Kieran, Pilot Peak Consulting

Fee: $65

---

You Had Me at “I Vote…”

Wednesday, Nov. 7 from 9 a.m. – noon

Learn how to contact, converse, and form effective relationships with elected officials. You’ll leave with a better understanding of who has the power, and how to create productive dialogue to influence those in power for the benefit of your clients and your agency.

Instructor: Rev. Sally Jo Snyder, Consumer Health Coalition

Fee: $65

---

Nonprofit Storytelling

Thursday, Nov. 8 from 9 a.m. – noon

Effectively telling your organization’s stories is as important as showing the data-backed outcomes. Stories motivate donors, capture volunteers, and influence public officials. In this workshop we will talk about what kinds of stories to tell, how to craft your stories for the most impact, and how to use media to get your stories out there.

Instructor: Wendy Burtner-Owens, Steeltown Entertainment Project

Fee: $65

Coffee and Conversation: Planning for Purpose in Retirement

Friday, Nov. 9 from 9 – 10:30 a.m.

Our “What Now?” research has got us thinking about all aspects of retirement. Of course the financial aspect is of major concern, but what else have you considered when you begin to think about a life after a nonprofit career? Join us for a conversation about finding PURPOSE in retirement as we talk about ways to help people explore their dreams after full-time work.

Conversationalists: Peggy Morrison Outon, Bayer Center and Tracy Grajewski, Careermindrs

Fee: $10

---

Planning and Running a Successful Capital Campaign

Wednesday, Nov. 14 from 9 a.m. – noon

A successful capital campaign requires thorough planning and expert implementation, and nonprofits must ensure that they have checked the necessary boxes to help optimize their campaign’s success. This class will provide an understanding of the key building blocks of a successful campaign including:

- The value of a campaign feasibility study
- The role of the staff, executive director, and the board
- The role of a campaign consultant
- The importance of the chart of needed gifts and how to build one
- The major components of the campaign plan

Instructor: Mark Lynch, Mark J. Lynch and Associates, LLC

Fee: $65

---

Keeping the Strategic Plan Alive

Tuesday, Nov. 27 from 9 a.m. – noon

Once a strategic plan is completed, it’s important to make sure the new plan doesn’t just gather dust on a shelf. Let’s put that strategic plan to work! We’ll look at how to structure committees to best work with the plan, and how to use dashboards to keep track of the progress. We’ll also discuss the importance of calibrating the strategic plan as the environment changes and make adjustments as necessary.

Instructor: Peggy Morrison Outon, Bayer Center

Fee: $65

Operationalizing Equity

Wednesday, Nov. 28 from 1 – 4 p.m.

Join us for a discussion about the process of diversity within organizations. Explore how to create an organizational breakthrough that promotes a productive, dynamic, and courageous work space. This type of cultural shift begins with individuals, moves into organizations, and extends outward. Who is in it for the long haul?

Instructors: Trish Gadson, Macedonia FACE and Susan Loucks, Bayer Center

Fee: $65

---

Volunteers: Enhance, Empower, Engage

Thursday, Nov. 29 from 9 a.m. – noon

For most nonprofits, the real challenge lies not in finding volunteers, but in keeping them. Volunteer engagement can be the key to making this link! In this session, we’ll explore how to:

- Enhance the volunteer experience so that your volunteers enjoy their time with you and feel it is well spent
- Empower your volunteers so they can take on important tasks that you need done and their time makes a real difference
- Engage your volunteers in ways that speak to them and that help them feel appreciated, vested, and connected to your mission.

Learn different strategies and techniques for achieving these goals, including focusing on why people choose to volunteer with you, storytelling, personalization, social media tools, and well thought out systems.

Instructors: Stacy Bodow and Julie Strickland-Gilliard, Global Links

Fee: $65

---

Leading Outside the Lines

Tuesday, Dec. 11 from 9 a.m. – noon

New models and generational changes are redefining leadership across the sector. We all want empowered staff, but we don’t want an absence of followers! Can we have it all? Join us to explore how to identify and cultivate leaders across your entire org chart, and build structures that leverage those strengths towards your mission.

NONPROFIT MANAGEMENT CLINICS

Board Basics
(2-hour minimum)
Are you launching or rebuilding your board? Do you have a number of questions about the basics of board operations (meetings, officers, terms and term limits, key policies and functions, committees, etc.)? Register for this deep dive into board basics, where we’ll answer your most pressing governance questions using a basic board assessment tool, and put your board on a path to success.

Bylaws Clinic
Bylaws are important in directing the board and the organization. Due to recent changes in the 990 legislation, many nonprofits’ bylaws are not in compliance with best practices. During this clinic, we will review your bylaws, give you suggestions for improvements, and guide you on how to discuss these with your board.

Employee Handbook Clinic
(2-hour minimum)
Is your employee handbook up to date and are all the vital elements included? Does its wording comply with wage and hour laws? Is it truly the employee information source that you would like it to be? We can help! During the clinic, we will do a complete review of your handbook and point out the sections that are missing or require revisions.

Governance Clinic
Nonprofit governance is complex and nuanced. Let us help you navigate topics like committee structures or advisory boards; board member recruitment or on-boarding; or the board’s role in fundraising, planning, financial or HR oversight. Bring your most burning board-governance questions, ask someone with seasoned experience, and leave with some potential next steps. This session is ideal for board members and Executive Directors.

HR Clinic
Do your HR policies need updating? Is expansion requiring more staff and more new job descriptions? Are you facing layoffs, or do you have a pregnant staffer and no maternity policy? We can help you with these and other issues including creating better performance appraisals, improving employee relations and restructuring benefits and compensation.

Marketing Clinic
In this clinic, we’ll review your current marketing strategy and materials, and give you advice about where you should focus your energy to align with your mission, customers, and needs.

Nonprofit Start-up Clinic
(2-hour minimum)
Thinking of starting a nonprofit? We’ll give you one-on-one guidance with the next steps – whether it is more research, looking into fiscal sponsorship, or reviewing an exemption application. We’ll guide you through different options and the decision-making process.

Pinpoint Planning Clinic
Know you need to improve in a specific area? It provides executives and boards with a quick analysis of critical operations and specific recommendations for improvement. You can choose from: finances and financial management, fundraising, human resources, legal issues, governance and technology. Each PinPoint Planning™ tool is a type of audit that will take organizations about an hour to complete and return. The Bayer Center will assign an ESC volunteer from the relevant field to review your materials and then meet with you one on one for a working session. During your face-to-face meeting, you’ll receive concrete, actionable suggestions to enhance your current operations.

This program was developed by the Bayer Center for Nonprofit Management in partnership with the United Way of Allegheny County.

Our ESC-led clinics offer individualized, expert advice on topics of interest for only $65 an hour. 60-minute sessions are available by appointment.

EXECUTIVE COACHING
More than just a sympathetic ear, the Bayer Center’s coaching program can help you be more effective at managing others, managing yourself, managing change, and balancing the demands of your professional and private lives. Our coaches can help you achieve a more effective organization and a peaceful night’s sleep! Especially beneficial to those new to supervision and management, coaches help you draw on your own natural wisdom to make better decisions from a place of clarity and confidence.

Cost: $500 for each 6-hour coaching engagement. Smaller packages may be negotiated upon request. For more information, please contact Carrie Richards at 412-397-6008 or richardsc@rmu.edu.

The Master’s in Organizational Leadership is an interdisciplinary degree which builds on your experience as a member of society interacting with a wide variety of institutions to learn how to effectively develop others and accomplish organizational goals. Members of a society conduct their daily lives engaged with their educational, political, cultural, religious, commercial, familial, community and governmental organizations. These organizations require effective and flexible leaders and followers to enable members to adapt to inevitable change and maintain a well-functioning society.

Robert Morris University elevates the M.S. in Organizational Leadership by adding a nonprofit focus. Students can choose either to complete the entire 30-credit graduate degree curriculum, or enhance their credentials with a 12-credit certificate.

Both are designed for those that supervise or lead a team in the nonprofit sector, or for those aspiring to do so. Students engage in courses and subjects that will enable them to acquire the analytical and practical skills necessary to effectively participate in a wide range of nonprofit positions such as philanthropic work, program evaluation, fundraising, fiscal management, community outreach and development.

Knowledge acquired in the classroom can readily be applied to serve your community and organization. Students completing the degree or certificate add to their academic and professional development, and have transferrable leadership and organizational skills that are recognized and valued in both the nonprofit and for-profits sectors.

Program highlights include:

- Offered online or hybrid courses at RMU Downtown
- Evening courses offered on ground at BCNM
- Curriculum designed for those that supervise or lead a team in the nonprofit sector, or aspire to do so
- Students acquire analytical and practical skills that are transferrable to a wide range of positions and organizations
- Courses taught in 8-week accelerated sessions
- Earn your graduate degree in less than two years
- 15% tuition discount for members of Young Nonprofit Professionals Network (YNPN) of Pittsburgh

COURSE REGISTRATION

REGISTRATION INFORMATION
The registration deadline for all classes is one week before the course begins (or the first session of a series.) All registration fees must be paid prior to the class. Online payment is preferred. If you are unable to pay online, please email bcnm@rmu.edu to request an invoice. Register early – space is limited. Please register and pay for courses online at rmu.edu/bcnmregistration.

SCHOLARSHIPS
A limited number of partial scholarships are available to organizations demonstrating significant budget restraints. For more information, visit the education section of our website at RMU.EDU/BCNM or call 412-397-6000.

WITHDRAWAL AND REFUND POLICY
A full refund will be granted if the Bayer Center is notified of withdrawal at least five business days prior to the start of the session. No refund will be granted if the individual fails to attend or notify the Bayer Center five days prior to the event. If payment has not been made in advance and the individual fails to attend, payment is still required and will be invoiced. A student may transfer their registration to another member of their organization without penalty but must notify the Bayer Center at least one business day prior to the start of the session.

CANCELLATION POLICY
The Bayer Center reserves the right to cancel any class. If a class is canceled, a full refund of tuition fees or credit toward another class will be given, per the registered student’s preference. Please allow three to four weeks for processing of refunds.

DISCOUNTS*
Three or more classes:
Send three or more staff members from your organization to the same class, or one individual from your organization to three or more classes and receive a 20 percent discount on each course. Discounts cannot be applied when registering online, so please call 412-397-6000 or email bcnm@rmu.edu to register when using a discount.

BoardsWork! Award Agencies:
Current board members receive a 20 percent discount on each course.

* Not applicable for special events and convenings, clinics, conferences, and BoardsWork! cohorts.

PLEASE NOTE
Registration confirmations, notices of class changes, and other critical information are conveyed via email sent from bcnm@rmu.edu and gracey@rmu.edu. Please check your email the morning of any class for last-minute changes or cancellations. If your email program uses a spam filter, it may be necessary to add bcnm@rmu.edu and gracey@rmu.edu to your address book so that you receive updates and information.
