Examine the entire proposal writing process, while doing in-depth work in the specific areas where even experienced grants professionals can run into trouble. The ability to identify these areas and overcome the problems they present is crucial to your success. Through discussions and practical exercises, hone those skills that bring success. Then draft the most critical sections of a grant proposal and leave class with a solid outline for completing the proposal with your organization.

In this 2-day training you learn to:

- Identify the key practices for developing effective programs and successful proposals
- Understand the types of information that are a “must” for every proposal
- Recognize the four most crucial elements of a proposal and how they fit together
- Identify and document the situation your organization wants to change
- Spell out the specific, measurable outcomes you plan to achieve
- Show that your organization can deliver what it promises
- Build a basic, doable evaluation plan (and know when to call in an expert)
- Create a bullet-proof budget
- Plan ways to make your program sustainable, even before it gets off the ground
- Put it all together in a logic model
- Understand the grant proposal review process
- Find and work with the funders that are right for you

You return to your organization with a work product in hand—a logic model that lays out your case for funding and an outline to guide you in developing a complete proposal!
